ITALY.

LEGHORN, February 5.

BARON * Neuhoff landed the 25th of laſt Month in the Iſland of Corſica. The 26th he went to the Village of Santa Reparata in the Province of Balagna, where he found the Chiefs aſſembled, who receiv'd him as their King. On the 30th he publiſh'd an Edict, wherein he grants a general Pardon to all the Corſicans that acted againſt his Intereſt. He recalls thoſe in the Service of the King of Spain, or of the King of the Two Sicilies, in Italy, within the ſpace of ſix Weeks; and thoſe in France or Spain in three Months. He orders thoſe in the Service of the Grand Duke of Tuſcany to remain there, and ſerve him with Faithfulneſs and Affection, unleſs his Royal Highneſs thought proper for them to return into their own Country. He declares he is reſolved to employ all his Forces for the Defence and Preſervation of the Dominions of that Prince, as well as thoſe of the Queen of Hungary, as univerſal Heireſs of all the Kingdoms and States poſſeſſed by the late Emperor Charles VI. Baron Neuhoff gives but a Month's Time for the Return of the Corſicans in the Service of the Pope, and three Months to thoſe who ſerve the Republick of Venice. With Regard to thoſe in the Places in Poſſeſſion of the Genoeſe, they are allow'd but 24 Hours; and to thoſe in the Republick of Venice, but eight Hours.

Leghorn, February 7. We hear from Corſica, that Baron Neuhoff has been joined by his Nephew, Baron Droſt, and that all the Pieves or Communities ſucceſſively acknowledge him for their King.

Mirandola, February 15. They bring in here daily vaſt Quantities of Ammunition and Forage, which the Spaniards have abandon'd in their Retreat, after the late Battle of Campo Santo, and they alſo carry great Quantities to Modena and Carpi. The Jews of Mantua flock to the Quarters both of the Auſtrian and Sardinian Troops in order to buy up their Booty, by which the Jews are like to be great Gainers, ſince the Soldiers tell for a very Trifle what they risk'd their Lives to acquire. Only Spaniſh Horſes come to a great Market, all the Officers being deſirous of having them at any Rate.

Leghorn, Feb. 15. Our laſt Advices from Corſica inform us, that Baron Droſt, Nephew to King Theodore, is aſſembling a large Body of Troops in order to cover the Meeting of the States of the Iſland of Corte. King Theodore himſelf has landed in different Parts of the Iſland, to receive the Homage of the People, and to furniſh them with Arms. He has likewiſe landed a conſiderable Quantity of Powder and other Ammunition for the Service of his Party, of whom it is reckoned there are already 5000 in Arms. Two Engliſh Men of War have entirely block'd up the Haven of Ajaccio, ſo that Don Caſamara, who was ſent from Toulon with nine Officers and 130 Sailors, in order to bring off the St Iſidore, a large Spaniſh Man of War aſhore in that Port, has been obliged to return Re infecta; and we begin to apprehend, that Baron Droſt will either make himſelf Maſter of her, or enable the Engliſh Long-Boats to ſet her on Fire, by obliging the Spaniards to abandon the Batteries they have erected on Shore. King Theodore expects hourly a Train of heavy Cannon, ſhipp'd on his Account at Amſterdam; and we have juſt now received Advice, that two large Dutch Ships, laden with Arms and Ammunition for his Service, are actually arrived at Port Mahone.

Modena, February 19. The Spaniards are in a very deſolate Condition, great Part of their Artillery being taken, ſeveral pieces of which they threw into the Panaro to facilitate their Flight.

Genoa, February 20. A Galley ſail'd from hence Yeſterday to the Iſland of Corſica, with a large Sum of Money for the Pay of the Troops quarter'd in that Iſland, and ſome Recruits. We talk of ſending over thither a conſiderable Reinforcement to drive out Don Theodore, if it ſhall be found practicable, which is much doubted; nay, ſome People do not ſtick to ſay, that in ſix Weeks, or two Months, he will find himſelf ſtrong enough to beſiege Baſtia. If ſo, in all Probability we ſhall not long have that Kingdom to boaſt of.

Venice, February 23. The Joy ſhewn here for the Succeſs of the Queen of Hungary's Arms is ſo great, that it ſufficiently ſhews how little pleaſed the Republick would be to ſee the Dominions of the Houſe of Bourbon engaged in Italy. The Army of M. de Gages is reduced to 6000 Men, and he has quarter'd his Infantry in the Portico of St. Luke, near Bologna, in order to ſecure them from the Rigour of the Seaſon, and the Attempts of the Auſtrians. A Body of Miquelets detach'd from the Spaniſh Army in Savoy, having attempted to penetrate into Italy thro' the Tarantaiſe, were attack'd, and moſt of them cut to Pieces by the Inhabitants of the Country.

Rome, February 23. We are amazed at the Influence of Don Theodore's Manifeſto here, which all the Corſicans are preparing to obey as readily as if he was the jaſteſt and moſt powerful Sovereign that ever ſate on a Throne; even ſuch as have been long ſettled here, and have acquired good Fortunes, are preparing to return home. Inſtructions have been ſent Cardinal Alberoni as to his Conduct towards the Auſtrians, in caſe they ſhould advance into the Neighbourhood of Bologna.

Florence, February 23. The Spaniſh Army does not conſiſt in all at preſent of above 8000 Men. In the Action on the other ſide of the Panaro the Spaniards had 3057 kill'd, about 2000 wounded, 227 Officers kill'd or wounded, 223 Officers taken Priſoners, with 800 private Men. The Auſtrians 1237 kill'd about 400 wounded; 222 private Men, ſix Officers, and Generals Beyersberg and Ciceri taken Priſoners. The Electreſs Dowager Palatine has conſtituted the Grand Duke of Tuſcany her univerſal Legatee; the Inheritance amounts to more than 7,000 000 of Crowns, two whereof are in ready Money. The Count de Richecourt has by Virtue of a full Power from the Grand Duke taken Poſſeſſion of all the moveable Effects of the Houſe of Medicis, which was in the Hands of the late Electreſs.

Venice, March 3. Six Thouſand Auſtrian Recruits, two Regiments of Dragoons, and one of Huſſars, are arrived on the Frontiers of the Mantuan, to reinforce the Army of Count Traun. There are 6000 more on their March thro' the Tyroleze to join the ſame.

SWITZERLAND.

Verona, February 26. The Conferences that were held here have been broken off ſomewhat abruptly. Several Perſons who are concerned in the Government of the Cantons have ſufficiently ſhewn their Inclination to favour the Spaniards; but this was ſo warmly reſented by the People, that they have been obliged to change their Sentiments, and and to consent to the assembling an Army of Observation. It is not easy to express the Eagerness which the People shew to go into the Field on this Occasion, and it is generally thought that if the Spaniards should make an Attempt upon Geneva, no very numerous Army will return out of Savoy

Genoa, March 5. Letters from Italy advise, that Count Traun has receiv'd a Reinforcement of 7000 Men from Germany, and had afterwards, with the Piedmontese Troops who had join'd him, pass'd the Panaro; and that Count Gages, with his Forces, were march'd towards Rimini and Forli.

Genoa, March 7. The Marquis de la Mina, the Spanish General, was to lay as last Night at a Village called Laney, about half a League from this City; but it is believed that he had been there some Time before, in order to view the Ground for a Camp. — We just now hear that the Duke d'Apremont, the Piedmonteze General, died on the 23d of last Month, of the Wounds he received in the Battle of Campo Santo, to the great Grief of the King of Sardinia, and all his Friends, he being look'd on as a very experienc'd General.

Genoa, March 9. The Spanish Quarter-Masters have Orders to provide stabling for a great many Horses in the Village of Laney, a Mile distant from this City. It is supposed, that the Marquis de la Mina intends to fix his Head Quarters in that Village, which is situated on a rising Ground, to the Southward of us. He has caused a great deal of Timber to be cut down, for flooring Batteries and making Madriers, as if he intended a Bombardment. Their heavy Artillery is arrived at Chambery; yet, we are apt to think, that all this is nothing but a Bravado, in order to engage the Cantons not to oppose the Passage of the Spanish Army into Italy. The Cantons of Bern, Zurich, Friburgh, and Lucern, act in Conjunction to hinder it, as well as to defend the Pais de Vaux, and Geneva, in case these were attack'd. Tho' the Bishop of Sion, and some of the chief Men in Valais, are bribed by the Spaniards, yet the People are honest, and, being well arm'd, are resolv'd to controul the wicked Designs of their Rulers. We have been at a vast Expence for compleating the new Fortifications, and repairing the old ones. The only Article of Palisado's amounts to more than 200,000 Crowns. Tho' we are pretty well provided with Corn, Arms, and warlike Ammunition, yet the Publick Treasure is exhausted, and the yearly Income, which never amounted to more than 25,000 l. is not sufficient to defray the Charges incident upon this Occasion. Therefore, the Assembly of the People have voted, Nem Con an extraordinary Tax to be raised upon the richest Citizens; by which those who are taxed at more than Twenty Shillings a Year to the Guard, shall pay seven Times more; insomuch that some who were taxed, according to their Estate, at 25 l. will pay 175 l. Those who were taxed at twenty Shillings and under, are only invited to contribute what they think fit towards the Necessities of the Publick. We miss very much the 400,000 Crowns sent to the King of Sardinia, the more, as they have not answered their Destination. We hear from Turin, that the Provisional Treaty that subsisted between this Prince and the Queen of Hungary is made perpetual; that he engages himself by it not to lay down his Arms 'till the Spaniards have been driven out of Italy; that he is preparing to re enter Savoy, and has given Orders to form considerable Magazines in the Val d'Aost; that Count Traun was in full March against the Spanish Army in Italy; that Count d'Apremont is dead of the Wounds he received at Campo Santo; and that a few Hours before his Death he received from the King a Letter full of Kindness and Affection, with the Ensigns of the Order of the Annunciada.
